STARS OF THE WEEK:

13th October 2023

Bees. Louie: Louie is ALWAYS a super star. He has tried so hard since coming into Bee class and he is the one child that we can always rely on the carpet to be doing the right thing. He has been trying so hard in phonics and he's making fabulous progress. We are so proud!

Butterflies. Margo: Margo is a fantastic member of Butterflies. She is a fantastic role model who always listens, is always ready to learn and is a lovely and kind friend. She is inquisitive about other children and is always helping her friends or playing alongside them brilliantly. You have had a fantastic start to the year Margo, we can't wait to continue to watch you grow.

Squirrels. Olivia: Olivia is such a kind member of squirrel class. She is so quick to offer to help her peers when they are unsure of something, are feeling hurt or just generally need a friend to help them out. She is also helpful when her adults need an extra pair of hands too. Olivia has been doing really well in her reading group, showing a super understanding of the texts and a real enthusiasm for reading. Well done, Olivia.

Frogs. Esra: Esra has been working fantastically well this week. He has been making sure that he is ready to learn at all times. By doing this Esra sat down and planned his story about Billy the Brave knight. Well done Esra and keep up the good work!

Mice. Riya: Riya is my star of the week this week for her story telling. We have been writing a story based on Little red riding hood together. Riya's wonderful imagination has shone through and she has planned a wonderful story full of lots of exciting adjectives, verbs and adverbs. I can't wait to read the final story at the end of the week. Well done, Riya.

Hedgehogs. Harry: Harry is our superstar this week and I could pick him for so many reasons, but I love his positive attitude, he always strives to do his best and to tackle every new challenge with a positive attitude. There is no such word as 'can't' for Harry as he loves to learn new things and impress the grown-ups!

Moles. Luca: Luca has worked hard throughout the week and has produced some wonderful writing. He is also a very supportive and encouraging member of the class who is always praising others and helping them when he can. Well done, Luca!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Rabbits. Aubree: Aubree has worked really hard with her writing over the past two weeks. She produced an AMAZING Awesome Authors piece of writing using all the features we have been learning this term. She even added in extra detail to interest the reader. Well done, Aubree.

Badgers. Alex: Alex has impressed me this week with his focus and attitude to learning. He has pushed himself, taking a really active part in class discussions, and on those occasions when he has been distracted, he has managed to quickly bring himself back on track and get back on with the learning. You should be very proud of yourself Alex – I know I am.

Foxes. Elif: Elif has been a superstar since starting back at school. She tries her best in everything and has shown us how much progress she is making. Her reading, writing and maths are fantastic. She never gives up and always has a go at things that might be tricky. Well done, Elif.

Kingfishers. Gerrard: Gerrard's attitude in all aspects of his learning has been exceptional. In Maths, in particular, Gerrard has shown great resilience to new mathematical challenges. As a result, he has progressed through emerald and has completed the additional challenges successfully. Well done, Gerrard!

Owls. Romario: Romario has worked really hard on his writing this week and come up with some very creative ideas which have been riveting to read! Well done, Romario.

Kestrels. Zara: Zara has amazed us this week with her confidence and enthusiasm in lessons. This week she blew me away with the recall of grammar knowledge and understanding, being one of the first to want to answer or explain her thinking to the class. Keep it up!

Sparrow Hawks. Roman: Roman has started his time in Year 6 in such a positive way. He is focused, producing excellent work and showing how a mature Y6 pupil should behave, setting a great example to others. Well done Roman!
