STARS OF THE WEEK:

1st December 2023

Bees. Leo G: Leo has had a fabulous week this week. He absolutely LOVED going into Arnold and his behaviour was impeccable. He has also had a lovely week whilst trying really hard at turn taking with his friends!

Butterflies. Jaleel: Jaleel has been a shining example this week. He has been making brilliant choices in all his independent learning and has been really focussed in group sessions. He has been respecting our environment and has been participating in maths and talk for writing sessions. Well done, Jaleel, a great week!

Squirrels. Ethan: Recently Ethan has been impressing us all with his focus and careful thinking. He thoroughly enjoyed our Science this week and could talk about waterproof materials with confidence. We even discussed evaporation! Keep showing us your super knowledge, Ethan, and giving your best in every lesson. Well done.

Frogs. Harvey-Jay: Harvey-Jay has impressed me this week with his work ethic and resilience. He has settled into class at all times. Harvey-Jay has been a really curious learner this week by asking questions and creating discussions within our class. Well done on a fantastic week Harvey-Jay, we are all very proud of your work!

Mice. Milo: Milo has enjoyed our talk for writing topic so much that he wrote a whole set of instructions in his own time. They contained everything that we have been thinking about over the last few weeks and he was even able to explain them clearly to the rest of the class. Thank you, Milo, for being such a superstar.

Hedgehogs. OJ: We have all been very proud of OJ this year, he always wants to succeed and is so proud of himself when he overcomes something that he previously thought was 'too difficult' Recently he has been impressing everyone with his hard work in his reading and phonics. Keep working hard OJ it is fantastic to see you succeed.

Moles. Grayson: Grayson has worked hard all week showing us some great Mental Maths and some brilliant ideas for our new story. Grayson is a fantastic role model in the classroom and is already ready to learn, he is becoming more and more resilient and is developing a brilliant "can-do" attitude! Well done, Grayson!

Rabbits. Miley: Miley has worked really hard with her Maths this week. We have been focusing on our 2's, 5's and 10 times table. She has been able to spot patterns and apply her knowledge of number! Well done, Miley!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Jasmine: Jasmine is an absolute superstar! She's always keen to learn, puts in lots of effort and when she does get distracted, she quickly gets back on track and completes her work. She also did brilliantly in assessments this week!

Foxes. Nevaeh: Nevaeh has been working so hard. She has been trying to work independently in lots of different subjects. Nevaeh has produced some great work in RE, English and Maths. She has remembered some super facts about rivers in geography too. Keep up this amazing work Nevaeh!

Kingfishers. Riley: Riley has consistently demonstrated his ability as an independent enquirer. This is particularly evident in Maths, where Riley regularly uses a range of resources from our Maths area to support his learning. All of Riley's hard work has already paid off, as he has made great progress this term in Maths! Well done, Riley!

Owls. Libby: Libby has mastered some very, very hard pieces of punctuation. She is accurately using colons and semi colons in her writing! She has written a persuasive piece of text, using colons to introduce a list and semi colons to break up big chunks of information in a list. Her writing has been very clear and concise- making it a joy to read. I cannot wait to see what she can do for her Awesome Authors next week!

Kestrels. Alicia: This week Alicia has blown me away with the progress she has made in reading. She has worked extremely hard in all reading sessions, listened well and applied all the skills discussed. Her hard work has really paid off! Well done, Alicia.

Sparrow Hawks. Noah: Noah has shown fantastic resilience and persevered with his reading fluency and comprehension skills. In our last assessment he showed that he has taken everything on board, achieving his reading target. We are all so proud Noah-you are a credit to the class in so many ways!
