STARS OF THE WEEK:

13th December 2024

Bees. Rayhan: For working hard in all areas and trying his best at all times. He has been trying really hard with his letter formation.

Butterflies. Indy: You have really impressed us this week in your phonics and reading sessions. You are sound talking and blending your words and listening hard during all group sessions. Well done Indy a great week.

Squirrels. Leo R: Leo has been a superstar this week. He is always incredibly kind and helpful and is always ready to work hard. We were all so impressed with how confident he was during our performance and how clearly he said his lines. Well done, Leo!

Frogs. Hugo N: Hugo has impressed me and other Year 1 staff with how sensible he has been this last week. He keeps showing us he is ready to learn, setting a great example to others, and working hard in every way! Well done, Hugo!

Mice. Harper: Harper sets such a good example to our class every day and she does an amazing job in all lessons. She has made fantastic progress with her reading this term and always produces superb writing, presenting it beautifully. Well done, Harper!

Hedgehogs. Ruby: Ruby stepped in last minute as Angel Gabriel in our Christmas production and did an amazing job! She was very brave, and we were all very proud of her. She tries hard in everything and is a joy to have in the classroom. Well done, Ruby!

Moles. Jake: Jake's behaviour has been exemplary this week! He's been working really hard in all his lessons and has shown some really good progress. I have been especially impressed with his work in English, where he has been working hard to produce some fantastic writing. Well done, Jake!

Rabbits. Lowen: What an absolute star Lowen is on a daily basis. He shows us his best efforts in everything that he does. His behaviour is outstanding, and he is always ready to learn. Keep on impressing us Lowen, we are proud of you!

Badgers. AJ: AJ has shown just how capable and knowledgeable he is in our recent end of term assessments. He did brilliantly and should be very proud of his achievements. I know I am. AJ - keep showing off that amazing learning, it will take you far!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Foxes. Amaliia: Amaliia has had an exceptionally good week. She did extremely well in her assessments and has shown herself to be a good team player and friend to others also.

Kingfishers. Charlie: Charlie is determined to improve his handwriting. He's worked so hard to achieve high standards with regards to his presentation. We're really pleased with his progress. Well done, Charlie!

Owls. Eadie: Eadie is a huge asset to Owl class. She is kind, considerate and always a team player who helps her classmates. This week I have noticed that she has been amazingly creative when writing our Haiku poetry – even planning them at home beforehand! Well done, Eadie, I am always immensely proud of you.

Kestrels. Lewis L: Lewis has worked extremely hard in science this week and shown enthusiasm for what we were learning in our 'Animals including humans' topic. His work has been exceptional, trying hard to express his opinion about an issue which is backed up by evidence. Well done.

Sparrowhawks. Annika: Annika has been working extremely hard in class in all her lessons. Her books are showing her great presentation skills, and she has been a superstar this week contributing to all our science lessons with some great ideas. Well done, Annika.
