STARS OF THE WEEK:

15th November 2024

Bees. Esmae: For her amazing perseverance with her letter formation in phonics this week. Even though she has found things tricky, she hasn't given up and has tried so hard with the new graphemes she is learning. Well done, Esmae!

Butterflies. Teddy: We have been really proud and impressed with Teddy's enthusiasm and attitude towards learning and trying new things this week. He has blown us away with his engagement and participation in talk for writing lessons being a role model to other children by immersing himself in the story of the 3 Billy Goat Gruff and the actions we have created. He has shown excellent kindness to everyone in Butterflies and his cheerful smile fills us all with happiness each day. Well done Teddy we are very proud of you! 😊

Squirrels. Mallory: Mallory has been amazing this week as she is every week! This week she has worked incredibly hard in all lessons and done some amazing writing that has gone on our Wow Work wall. Not only that, she has been incredibly kind and helpful towards other children in the class and offered support when she sees someone has needed it. It is wonderful having such a kind and smiley person in the classroom. Well done Mallory – keep it up!

Frogs. Hudson: Hudson has had an amazing week! He has contributed in lessons, participated in reading groups and been an excellent role model to others when it is learning time. I am so impressed with how his confidence is growing! Well done, Hudson!

Mice. Chloe: Chloe has been giving some amazing answers and contributions in class. She is working so hard in every area. Chloe always produces a wonderful standard of work and is setting a super example! Well done, Chloe.

Hedgehogs. Olivia: Olivia has been trying really hard this week. She has contributed well in lessons and it has been lovely to hear her ideas. She is an excellent role model and has been trying really hard with her writing. Well done, Olivia!

Moles. Lex: Lex has put in a lot of effort this week! He has worked incredibly hard in English and has tried to contribute more to lessons. I have noticed his confidence growing each week and hasn't been afraid to ask for help when he needs it. Well done, Lex!

Rabbits. Layla: Layla has shown excellent focus this week across all areas. She is producing work with maximum effort and has shone out in writing. We are proud of your participation efforts Layla, keep it up!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Sudis: Sudis puts lots of effort into every lesson and is very keen to learn. He also has the confidence to ask for help when he needs it too which is fantastic – well done.

Foxes. Eva: Eva has shown this week not only her resilience but also her willingness to put herself forward. Both in Maths and English she has worked hard to complete tasks and on Viking Day she answered questions confidently. Overall, a great week. WELL DONE!!!

Kingfishers: Ella: Ella always gives 100% in all aspects of her learning. However, this is particularly evident in reading, where Ella works hard to echo intonation, and rehearse sentences clearly and precisely. Well done, Ella!

Owls. Ronnie: Ronnie is always doing exactly what is expected of him. Ronnie always works so hard and has shown fabulous resilience this week in Maths when working with fractions. He is always challenging himself to do better, and he is a brilliant asset to our class. Well done, Ronnie!

Kestrels. Isaac: Our art this term is studying artist Paul Nash a painter who worked as a WW2 artist. This week Isaac produced a fantastic copy of one of his paintings called Meers Tote, it involved sketching and shading with pencil. Well done, Isaac.

Sparrow Hawks. Logan: Logan has been extremely supportive to his learning partner during our tricky Maths sessions about adding and subtracting fractions. At home he baked a fantastic cake for the flea market (I was too late to get a slice!). He has also embraced his new job of timetable monitor and has been consistent in his focus and effort. Well done, Logan!
