STARS OF THE WEEK:

24th January 2025

Bees: Noah: For brilliant work in phonics this week. He has been spotting lots of our new digraphs and trigraphs in our sentences and has been sound talking and blending really well. Well done, Noah! Keep up your hard work.

Butterflies. Ruby: You have had a fantastic week. You are showing confidence in all your phonics, talk for writing and Maths sessions. You are using your sounds to write words independently, working so hard on letter formation and your retelling of our story is just excellent. Well done Ruby we are so proud of you!

Squirrels. Mario: Mario has been a real superstar this week. His enthusiasm for learning has been wonderful to see. He has made some brilliant contributions to our class discussions and has tried his best in all of his work. He has also been incredibly kind towards other members of the class. Well done, Mario – keep it up!

Frogs. Layla: Layla has impressed me this week with her amazing work ethic! She has worked so hard all week across every lesson, even choosing to do more work in her choosing time. She has also been so helpful around the classroom to staff and children alike! Well done, Layla!

Mice. Naqib: Naqib has been trying hard to concentrate well on the carpet during our lessons. He has focused in phonics, writing and in Maths. We have noticed a really positive attitude this week. Well done, Naqib!

Hedgehogs. Olivia: Olivia is an always child! She always tries her best and is very hardworking. She shows a great attitude and is always contributing in lessons. Well done, Olivia!

Moles. Eva: Eva has been brilliant this week. She has been working so hard in her writing and has really improved her handwriting as well as her sentence structures. She has made a really good effort and has remained resilient. Well done, Eva!

Rabbits. Bexley: Bexley has been a superstar this week. She has shown a great attitude to learning and has worked hard in all subjects. She shows resilience and perseverance when faced with challenges. Well done, Bexley!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Alice: Alice has been brilliant this week. She's increasing in confidence and answering questions in the whole class and showing off her wonderful knowledge. Well done!

Foxes. Esme: Esme has had a fantastic week. She has participated in class and shared her ideas even if she wasn't confident with her answers. She has also shown off the school values all week. Well done, Esme!

Kingfishers. Freddie: Freddie's worked so hard this week to increase his resilience and capacity to overcome academic challenges and difficulties. We're really proud of your progress Freddie! Well done!

Owls. Felix: Felix has been nothing short of amazing this week. He has worked hard in every single lesson, he has stayed on task and completed lots of amazing writing this week. Felix has also worked hard on using his self-regulation strategies in times of pressure and we just couldn't be more proud of the progress he is making!

Kestrels. Violet: Violet has had a fantastic week, which hasn't gone unnoticed! She has shone in Maths, showing an enthusiasm for learning. She has also demonstrated a good understanding about what makes a piece of writing suspenseful, creating a couple of wonderful pieces of writing that include the toolkit we have been focusing on. Great work Violet!

Sparrowhawks. Blake H: Blake has been impressing me this week with his hard work in Guided reading. He is showing that he has a deep understanding of our text by producing some excellent comprehension answers- this bodes well for his reading SAT in the Spring term! Well done Blake, your focus in other subjects, especially in writing, has not gone unnoticed either!
