STARS OF THE WEEK:

25th April 2025

Bees. Jackson: This week Jackson has been really engaged with our new topic. He has been sharing lots of ideas during class discussions and has shown a super understanding of the things we can see growing around us. He has enjoyed exploring our new areas in the unit and has been showing that he can connect new observations to facts he already knows. What a wonderful start to the summer term, Jackson. Well done.

Butterflies. Ted: Ted has had a brilliant week. He has been trying so hard in phonics and focussing hard in his writing. We are really impressed with your creativity and how you plan, design and build your models. Well done, Ted.

Squirrels. Zainab: Zainab has had an amazing start to the new term! She has been working so hard – especially in Phonics and English where she has written some brilliant sentences. She is also great around the classroom and is kind to her friends. Well done, Zainab – keep it up!

Frogs. Jai: Jai has been incredibly helpful and is always doing the right choices. He has shown great effort with Phonics and Maths and has been keen to get back into learning. He is a pleasure to have around the classroom always helping and supporting others and he is always asking to help me or tidy up. Such a great role model. Well done!

Mice. Nelson: Nelson has been giving us some fantastic facts about Brazil this week. He is always working hard and joining in our class discussions. He has had a superb first week back. Well done, Nelson.

Hedgehogs. Steven: Steven has had an excellent start to our new term. He has impressed us with his attitude to learning and has tried incredibly hard with his handwriting. He is always supportive to others and a great friend. Well done, Steven!

Moles. Arlo: Arlo has had a fantastic first week back. He has impressed lots of the teachers with his maturity and good behaviour, even when others are not doing the same. He has worked hard in lessons and has persevered when faced with challenges. Well done, Arlo!

Rabbits. Oj: Oj has had a fantastic first week back. He has put in maximum effort towards his learning. He has shown us his handwriting skills on the line and we are so proud of his attitude and engagement. Keep it up Oj!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Aryan: Aryan has had an excellent start to our new term. He's been very focused, working hard and quick to get started with his learning. Great job Aryan. Well done!

Foxes. Esme: Esme has made an amazing first impression since I have started in Foxes class. She is always ready to learn, supports others, is kind and caring and has helped me get back into the swing of things! Thank you Esme, keep it up!

Kingfishers. Lauren: Lauren's displayed considerable resilience in her return to school this half term. She persevered well on our well-being day, particularly with her macrame keyring. Lauren used her creativity to produce some wonderful drawings! Well done, Lauren!

Owls. Max: Max is bubbly and happy member of Owl class and never fails to make us smile. This week he has particularly impressed me with his use of speech within a narrative. We looked at introducing speech between two characters and he wowed me with his accuracy and creativity. Well done, Max!

Kestrels. Ben: Ben has made a fantastic start to the Summer Term. He has fully involved himself in all lessons but particularly science and Maths, when we have been revising Roman Numerals. He has been enthusiastic to answer questions and share his ideas or knowledge with the class. Well done.

Sparrowhawks. Blake M: Blake has shown how focused, hard- working and driven he can be and over the last few weeks he has impressed us all. He has come back to school ready willing and able and shown he is up for the challenge of our SATS week. He should be really proud of himself!
