STARS OF THE WEEK:

29th November 2024

Bees. Arlo: For having such wonderful ideas in English and for enthusiasm for all aspects of learning. Well done, Arlo. You impress us more and more each day and we can't wait to hear your next brilliant idea!

Butterflies. Mille: Millie has had a fantastic week; she has been working so hard on her lines for the Nativity and learning all the songs. She is trying super hard to concentrate in phonics and has been showing off her sound talking and blending skills in guided reading. Keep up the great work Millie.

Squirrels. Leo L: Leo has had a brilliant week. Leo has been spotted going the extra mile several times this week and it is wonderful to see. He has been super at tidying up – even clearing things up that he hadn't used. He has also been working extremely hard and has done some brilliant writing. The other thing we have spotted Leo doing this week is showing amazing kindness to other children in the class. We are so proud of how Leo has been this week. Well done Leo – keep it up!

Frogs. Esme: Esme has had an amazing week, she has been so sensible, worked really hard and been a role model to all. I am so impressed with her writing this week, and how she constantly tries to improve on her work. Esme has an amazing work ethic and is always trying her best with everything she does. Well done, Esme!

Mice. Isaac: Isaac is always ready to learn and sets a fantastic example to the whole class. He has produced some wonderful writing this week and his Maths is constantly improving in her lesson. He is thoughtful and contributes sensible answers. Well done, Isaac.

Hedgehogs. Nothando: Nothando's readiness to learn and resilience has greatly improved this half term. She tries her best in everything that she does which is reflecting in her work. Well done, Nothando, keep trying hard!

Moles. Maeve: Maeve has come to school with a great attitude this week! She has been positive and ready to learn. I can tell that Maeve has been working hard on her presentation and handwriting in school and at home, as the work she has produced this week has been amazing! She has also been trying really hard in maths and has remained resilient and determined, well done Maeve!

"Together, we will make a difference."

Rabbits. Sheyla: Sheyla is an excellent role model at school. She has such a positive attitude from the moment she walks in the classroom and her smile is infectious. Keep participating and answering questions in class Sheyla!

Badgers. Alfie: Alfie has been ON FIRE this week with his confidence and participation in class. Learning is remembering, and Alfie has remembered lots of information across a whole range of lessons. Well done, Alfie!

Foxes. Islay has showed great focus this week. Both the presentation and quality of her work in English has been excellent. In Maths she has grown in confidence and always tries her best. Well done, Islay.

Kingfishers: Jake: Jake's writing is exceptional. He works hard to apply all the 'toolkit' elements, and he understands the value of improving his word choices for effect. Well done, Jake!

Owls. Nyle: Nyle's writing this week has been amazing. He has really enjoyed our persuasive adverts, and he definitely had me convinced. Nyle demonstrates a real flair in his writing, and I have been very proud of him this week.

Kestrels. Gabby: Gabby has had a fantastic week. She has blown us away with her understanding of dividing fractions but also tried hard to include the toolkit objectives in her diary writing. Well done.

Sparrow Hawks. Austin: Austin has produced some fantastic work this week, both in Maths and English. He has also demonstrated great knowledge and group work skills in our Science lesson, making some fantastic blood soup with his group! Well done, Austin.
