Bees: Sydney: For brilliant listening on the carpet during all lessons and for working really hard in her guided reading sessions. Well done, Sydney, keep it up.

Butterflies. Alexis: Alexis has had a fantastic week; she is trying extra hard in all her focussed sessions. Her sound talking, blending and writing in phonics is coming on in leaps and bounds. Every day Alexis is kind, conscientious, polite and is a great friend and role model. Well done, Alexis.

Squirrels. Ria: Ria has been amazing all week. She has shown great resilience and has a fantastic sense of humour. She has loved joining in with our dancing and playing with her friends. It has been a joy to hear her laughter in the classroom! Well done, Ria!

Frogs. Myla: Myla has been a superstar all week. She has made some fantastic sentences during English, shown off her brilliant addition within 20 and been a great digraph spotter in phonics. Well done, Myla!

Mice. Eva: Eva has been really contributing really well in lessons all this week. She has been giving super ideas for her sentences in English and working hard on calculations involving money. She has also been super helpful around the class, thank you Eva!

Hedgehogs. Ralphie: Ralphie consistently tries to go above and beyond in all his learning. He always tries to improve his learning and is a great role model for the rest of the class. Well done, Ralphie!

Moles. Emily: Emily consistently works hard and always tries her best her best in lessons. Her behaviour is always excellent, and she is an amazing role model for other children in the class. She has been working especially hard in Maths where she often contributes to lessons and class discussions. Well done, Emily!

Rabbits. George: George has been an absolute superstar this week. He has consistently shown excellent behaviour and has encouraged his peers to make the right choices. George always tackles challenges with maturity and an 'I can' attitude. Well done, George!

Badgers. Anthony: Anthony always puts 100% into every lesson and works incredibly hard to be successful. He is an absolute superstar and a fantastic pupil. Well done.

"Together, we will make a difference."

Foxes. Aydan: Aydan is a role model in the classroom, always showing the school values and puts 100% into his work. He has been joining in with class discussion and sharing his ideas which is great to see. Well done, Aydan!

Kingfishers. Vedhika: We are so thrilled to announce that Vedhika is our Star of the Week! She has settled into the Kingfisher class wonderfully, always working hard with a super attitude. Vedhika's smiley and positive demeanour brightens up our classroom every day. Well done, Vedhika!

Owls. Leo: I have been so proud of Leo lately and his attitude towards his learning. He is working so hard, even when we have encountered some very difficult concepts within maths. He knows when to ask for help and then shows great resilience in having a go independently. Keep up the fabulous attitude Leo!

Kestrels. Sophia: Sophia is a dream to teach. She is an attentive, hard-working and independent learner. She never complains and is positive in her attitude towards everything we do. Well done, you really do deserve Star of the week.

Sparrowhawks. Emily: Emily has applied herself brilliantly this term and is demonstrating fantastic focus and effort in all subject areas. I am particularly pleased with the detailed explanations she is writing in science and topic work. She should be so proud of herself and all her achievements so far this year.
