STARS OF THE WEEK:

14th June 2025

Bees. Sydney: All week Sydney has been showing us her super concentration and attention in lessons. She has been brave when talking to the class and sharing her ideas and shown us just how clever she is. Whilst playing, she has been taking turns well and looking after her friends if they are finding sharing tricky. A brilliant week, Sydney. Well done.

Butterflies. Ava: This week Ava has been a shining star in maths. She has been grouping and sharing different amounts and she has been a wonderful role model. She is trying so hard to listen and follow all her instructions. Well done, Ava.

Squirrels. Radhika: Radhika has had a really good week this week. She has been spotted trying hard in lots of lessons. This week Radhika has tried especially hard in her writing and has paid off. She has also been a good friend to others when they need it. Well done, Radhika!

Frogs. Leo: Leo has had a fantastic couple of weeks. He has joined in lessons such as maths, phonics and art showing great enthusiasm. He has also been working with different children for several activities where he has shown empathy and kindness especially if other children have been upset about not winning a game. Overall, he has shown amazing effort, and it has been a pleasure to see Leo more involved and engaged with learning. Well done, Leo!

Mice. Mahalah: Mahalah has had a great week trying really hard with her Reading activities and maths activities. She has been focussing hard and setting a great example. Amazing work Mahalah keep it up!

Hedgehogs. Liam: We have started our time topic in Maths this week and Liam has been a superstar! It is clear that he has been practising at home, and he has been keen to share what the different hands mean with the class. Well done, Liam. Keep up the good work!

Moles. Cleo: Cleo has done some amazing writing this week! Her handwriting has improved so much since the start of the year and she has made a big effort to improve her spellings. Her behaviour is always excellent and she always tries her best. Well done, Cleo.

Rabbits. Raphie: Raphie has shone out this week. His listening and attention have been model behaviour in every lesson. Participation throughout English in particular has been a highlight. Keep putting in maximum effort Raphie.

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Megan: Magan has worked incredibly hard on her times tables. Her progress over the last few weeks has been fantastic and her confidence and determination are growing in line with her results. Megan, by believing you can do it – you have made it happen. Well done!

Foxes. Tia: I have been so proud of Tia's efforts with her multiplication tables this week. Tia has been pushing herself to practice both at home and at school. Her scores have gone from 4/25 to 20/25 in just 5 days! AMAZING Tia!!! Keep it up!

Kingfishers. Theodore: Theodore has displayed a great attitude towards his learning in all academic areas. He wants to work to the best of his ability. This was clearly demonstrated through his great sense of maturity within his yoga and writing sessions.

Owls. Tom: Tom has been trying so hard for the past few weeks. I have been so impressed with his new can-do attitude and how he is approaching his work. This week, I have been so impressed with how much he has been contributing to whole class discussions and with his Maths work.

Kestrels. Ben: He has been noticed by both my-self and Miss Dalling, for doing an amazing job as House Captain, opening the Mugga and putting out the breaktime resources. He has even spent his own breaktime tidying the PE sheds, demonstrating a responsible and mature attitude towards the role. Well done.

Sparrowhawks. Lincoln: He has been working hard to learn his parts for the Y6 performance and I have been impressed with his enthusiasm! Also, in class he has been working hard on our last couple of writing projects- he is certainly ready for the next step to secondary school- Well done Lincoln!
