STARS OF THE WEEK:

18th July 2025

Bees. Kyle: Over the last few weeks, Kyle has been showing us his fantastic brain by sharing facts and comments in response to our learning. It has been wonderful to see this new confidence and to hear his opinions. Kyle has also been trying lots of new areas of the classroom and showing us his full range of skills. A fabulous end to the term, Kyle. Well done.

Butterflies. Ruby: Ruby, you have had a brilliant year. You have blossomed into a wonderful member of the class who is thoughtful, hard working and has a brilliant attitude to learning. You have come on leaps and bounds in our writing, reading and phonics knowledge. Good luck in Year 1 Ruby!

Squirrels. Jah’Kai: Jah’Kai has had a brilliant year and could be star every week. He has been working extremely hard this year, especially on his handwriting which has become really neat and beautifully formed. He’s also a great friend and always has a smile on his face. Well done, Jah’Kai!

Frogs. Layla: Layla has tried really hard this week with her writing and learning the time in maths. She has been super helpful and caring towards others and always eager to contribute in lessons. Her eagerness to learn and to always have a go means she is a fantastic role model in the classroom. Well done, Layla!

Mice. Esme: She has shown kindness and enthusiasm on her trip to Gulliver’s Valley. She was constantly looking after others and was keen to try everything including holding a tarantula and stroking an armadillo!!! Well done, Esme.

Hedgehogs. Charlotte: Charlotte faced her fears at Gulliver’s Valley and held a snake and a tarantula! She was also super helpful and was a great friend to her peers on the trip. Well done, Charlotte!

Moles. Reid: Reid's consistent good behaviour in class sets an excellent example to his peers. He works hard and has made some excellent achievements over the year which he should be very proud of. Well done, Reid!

Rabbits. Annie: Annie always puts her hand up to answer questions. Not fussy – gets on with her work without being reminded or prompted. Well done, Annie.

"Together, we will make a difference."

Badgers. Vekaan: Vekaan has been a brilliant student to have in my class this year. He is kind, hard-working, helpful to others and ALWAYS polite. He is the type of pupil every teacher wants to have in his class, and I want to recognise what an amazing pupil he's been this year. He could be start of the week every week! Well done and thank you Vekaan.

Foxes. Beth: What a superstar Beth is! She is worthy of our last ever Foxes' star of the week. She always tries hard in everything she does, she has been spotted being kind to others this week. Keep shining Beth!

Kingfishers. Jake: Jake's exceptional, 'can do' attitude and hard work is reflected in his outstanding progress this year! Well done, Jake!

Owls. Elizabeth: Elizabeth always goes above and beyond and works incredibly hard on any task she is given. I have been so proud of Elizabeth this year and she particularly amazed me this week with her work on Biomes. The level of description was phenomenal. Well done, Elizabeth!

Kestrels. Yet again I am putting in the whole class! ALL of Kestrels deserve to be Stars of the Week as they have worked immensely hard over the past few weeks to put together an amazing performance of School O'Vision. They were ALL fantastic – the singing, the acting and even the dancing! You made all of us and your parents proud. Well done.

Sparrowhawks. Yet again I am putting in the whole class! ALL of Sparrow Hawks deserve to be Stars of the Week as they have worked immensely hard over the past few weeks to put together an amazing performance of School O'Vision. They were ALL fantastic – the singing, the acting and even the dancing! You made all of us and your parents proud. Well done.
